Date : 6th November 2020
Subject : The Revenue Department has facilitated the entrepreneurs for submitting an overdue Disclosure Form and paying a fine via e-Filing until 30th December 2020

The Revenue Department has facilitated the related companies or juristic partnerships earning total income in financial statement not less than 200 million baht in an accounting period 2019 who have failed to file a Disclosure Form for submitting an overdue Disclosure Form with a fine via www.rd.go.th until 30th December 2020.

Mrs. Sommai Siriudomset, Principal Advisor on Strategic Tax Administration (Energy Industry) as spokesperson of the Revenue Department, revealed that “Given the Revenue Department has informed the related companies or juristic partnerships which earn total income in financial statement not less than 200 million baht in an accounting period started on or after 1st January 2019 to submit a Disclosure Form for the first time within 31st August 2020, the Revenue Department has found that there are the entrepreneurs who have failed to file a Disclosure Form in the deadline date. As a result, in order to simplify tax transaction more conveniently, the Revenue Department has recommended those entrepreneurs to file an overdue Disclosure Form and pay a fine via www.rd.go.th > topic e-Filing > menu Disclosure Form. Moreover, the entrepreneurs who have already filed an overdue Disclosure Form and have not paid a fine yet can make a payment at the Revenue Department’s website within 30th December 2020 also.”

The spokesperson added that “the Revenue Department has facilitated the entrepreneurs who are required to submit the Disclosure Forms can upload them via e-Filing in form of a Microsoft Excel file conveniently, fast and easily. Taxpayers are able to download the Microsoft Excel files of Disclosure Forms at www.rd.go.th, topic: e-filing.”
